

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED AND EARNED

By JANE PHELPS

A Modern Story of Home and Business

CHAPTER I

"Really, mother, I can't think you are right," Geraldine Frost, said in reply to her mother's remark. "I should hate to think men were so weak."

"Remember what I tell you, Gerry," said her mother, "if a girl goes on working after she is married, it causes the man to lose interest so that he does not do his best. He has no spur, sees no necessity. You see, dear, many men need someone to work FOR to arouse the fighting instinct in them—to goad their ambition."

"But why will they not work for their own sake, their success in life?"

"It is not enough. A male animal will only forage when he is hungry unless he has a mate. He spends his time idly loafing at other times. But give him a mate and he will be on the go, will provide for her and their offspring. Men are very like animals in some respects—that is, many of them are. Give them a wife, children, and they will work, endure everything, to make that wife, those children, comfortable and happy. But if the wife forgoes herself, they soon learn to let her responsibilities slide."

"I still think you are mistaken, mother. And what a shame it would be for a girl who had made a place in the world for herself—who was earning as much or more perhaps than the man, the married—to give it up! Also, with their combined earnings they could be so much more comfortable."

"Comfortable Gerry, only in that they might perhaps have better clothes, etc. But a man wants a home. Perhaps as the years have changed, but up to now girls have not been able to make a home the sort of home he craves and keep a wage-earning position as well. A man attends to his business, his job, or whatever he does, with a single-mindedness no woman who tries to do two jobs at once can hope to attain. She is all-tempting too much—trying to be man and woman both. It naturally follows that she falls down in one capacity if not in both—usually it is in the making of a home."

"But times, people, have changed, mother."

"Man's nature hasn't changed. I may be old-fashioned, dear. I guess I am, but if women are to go out into the world's wage earners, let it be the sturdy, strong women who have no human feelings. Then dear there is another side to this question, a sad one, I think; the women who go on working after they are married, are not anxious for children. Children would, of course, interfere with their work, and so are unwelcome. I may be hopelessly old-fashioned, Gerry, but I don't help feeling that the old way is the best. If a woman has to work, all honor to her. But if it isn't necessary and by so doing she destroys the home life of herself and husband, she is unwise." Then after a moment's pause, she added: "It is far better for a girl to wait until the man she wishes to marry can provide a suitable home, and then to marry without taking thought of what living with a makeshift for a home would mean to one or both of them."

"But that means long engagements, and I thought you did not believe in them."

"Neither do I. Be good friends, but wait to become engaged until there is some chance that marriage will mean what it was intended to mean: home, children. My ideas may not have advanced with the times, Gerry, dear, yet I should dreadfully hate to see you marry and then work outside of your own home."

"There's no danger. Why, I haven't even a beau!" I returned laughing.

"That's because you have staid with me so constantly."

"I would rather be with you than with any of the boys or girls either." I told mother and I meant it. We were real chums, mother and I. We always talked over everything together. It was the marriage of one of the girls I knew, a girl who was going to keep her position, that had started the above conversation. She had a heart attack a few days afterward and I was left alone.

POPE THANKS MRS. DRAKE FOR WORK

He presented her with an autographed photograph and imparted his blessing upon her work.

Mrs. Drake's organization will supply milk at the sanatorium for tubercular children which Pope Benedict has founded near Rome.

Hudson Records Are A Triumph of Type

It Keeps the Mastery in Speed, Power and Endurance Through Exclusive Control of the Super-Six Model

How completely Hudson's supremacy is acknowledged. Its records are not held by hairbreadths. They overshadow all others by conclusive margins.

They bespeak the mastery of a type. That is clear to all.

Consider that Hudson's leadership is not divided. It is not merely the fleetest of cars. It holds all the worth while power and acceleration records, too.

But chiefly it is famous for endurance. No other car has ever shown such endurance proofs. Look at the records. Even more important, observe how 80,000 Super-Sixes now in service confirm all the fine qualities Hudson has proved in scores of tests.

Such records as the double trans-continental run of 7,000 miles in 10 days and 21 hours would have been impossible without it. Again its endurance was revealed in speedway racing. For time after time Hudson special racers, embodying the Super-Six principle defeated swifter racing machines, some of which cost upwards of $40,000, simply because the Hudsons kept running, when the terrific pace forced others to the repair pits.

It is noteworthy that Hudson records have stood for almost five years. In other fields five years have seen practically all records topple. The Hudson retains supremacy, because it has the exclusive right to the Super-Six motor.

Hudson's Finest Qualities Are Exclusive

The Hudson is a triumph of type. All it has done is due to the exclusive Super-Six motor, which minimizes vibration and increases motor power by 72 per cent, without added weight or size.

That principle accounts for Hudson's unequalled endurance. It accounts, too, for its great advantages of speed, hill-climbing and power over any other type.

And unless Hudson consents no other maker can use the principle of the Super-Six motor. It is the only supreme feature ever controlled by a single maker.

It is the Most Wanted Fine Car

Its sales prove that. Ever since its famous tests proved Hudson the greatest endurance and speed car, it has been the largest selling fine car in the world. Now more than 80,000 are in service.

The demand has always been in excess of supply. In some seasons thousands have waited months for delivery of certain models. That condition is we have every reason to believe, will be repeated this year.

Therefore, if you intend to get a Hudson, you will save disappointment by ordering ahead of the desired date of delivery.

W. C. T. U. MEETING—

Friday afternoon the W. C. T. U. Christian Temperance Union met in special session at the Methodist church, with the president, Mrs. Missman, presiding. Miss Callie Morgan conducted the devotional service. A W. C. T. U. song, "Wind the Ribbon Round the Nation," followed. The usual routine of business was abandoned in order to give time to the speaker, Miss Mable Kinney, county president, who gave a very interesting and comprehensive report of the National Convention, held in St. Louis, Nov. 15-20.

Miss Kinney reported: St. Louis was decorated at the union station with the letters, "W. C. T. U." Miss Anna Gordon, national president, gave the opening address of the convention, extracts of which will be published later. Among the many noted speakers and their subjects were the following: Mrs. Phillips North Moore, "Young People's Branch"; Mr. Hay, "Legal Fraternity"; Vice President at Large, Mrs. Ella Book; Mrs. Burns, "Department of Americanization"; Mrs. Livingston, "The Foreigner"; Mrs. Charles Wood, "Child Welfare Department"; Catherine Waugh McCullough, "Law Enforcement, Col. Parker, "War Work of the W. C. T. U."; Miss Tingling, "World Prohibition." On Sunday evening thirty-one women occupied pews all over the city. Ohio was awarded the banner for the greatest membership. A life play, "The Child in the Midst," was given one evening and a Jubilee bell drill was also given by the young people. Great credit was given to the Young Peoples Branch for its work in the colleges.

At the close of her report Miss Kinney advised the Union to celebrate appropriately the coming of National Prohibition on Jan. 16, 1920.

A vocal number was given by Newell Lumsden, "The Song the Angels Sang," with his mother, Mrs. E. C. Lumsden, playing his accompaniment.

DIXON LOSES PIONEER FAMILY—

Tomorrow Mrs. George H. Squires and daughter, Miss Christine, leave for their new home in Los Angeles, Cal., where George H. Squires, Mrs. Squires' son, resides. Dixon residents greatly regret to see them go as they are the last members of one of Dixon's oldest and most prominent families. Mrs. Squires' father, Col. John Dement, came to Dixon in 1840, and was variously employed in the real estate business, as a land agent for the government in charge of the land office here, and in manufacturing and built for his family an elegant home, surrounded by sunken gardens, on the site where the car barns now stand. Thousands of acres of land in this section of the country were in the ownership of the family. Her brother, Col. Henry Dement, lives in Chicago. A sister of Mrs. Squires, Mrs. E. C. Parsons, has passed away. Mrs. Squires' mother was a daughter of Henry Dodge, first governor of Wisconsin. And he and a son and a half brother, all served in the U. S. Senate.

Miss Christine Squires, who has been studying in Columbia University, N. Y., the art of interior decorating will continue her work in Los Angeles.

EVER STAND AND WATCH A WOMAN

Looking over a lot of fine cedar chests—observe the deep interest, the animation, the real pleasure she shows in anticipation of owning and using one—as a matter of fact, you'll PLAY SAFE if you choose a Cedar Chest for Milady's Gift.

Among many delightful gift pieces we are showing this Christmas—the most wonderful assortment of Cedar Chests ever gathered in this store.

There are large chests and small chests—there are chests of genuine mahogany, finished like satin, the interiors of solid red cedar and with extra, deep, sliding tray for the dainty fabrics that should be most accessible, there are fine chests of quarter-sawn fumed oak, solid cedar lined, there are chests both interior and exterior of the choicest, fragrant, spicy, Tennessee Red Cedar, some with handsome copper trim and others depending on the beauty of choice woods and exquisite finish for charm.

There's something peculiarly feminine, and touching Romance about the Cedar Chest—the mystery of the dainty contents, the charm of silks and satins and wearing apparel that has the clinging scent of the aromatic cedar—a most delightful odor that peculiarly is antagonistic to destructive moths. There are cabinet locks on all these chests that insure privacy of the contents for the user and the covers are dust-proof.

Every woman of refinement and charm will gladly welcome a Cedar Chest as a Christmas gift and in choosing such a piece, you pay a rarely fine and delicate compliment in the choosing of HER Gift.

PURPOSEFUL

"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"One of the greatest scenes in Eugene Walter's dramatization of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is laid in Judd Tolliver's cabin, Young Dave, June's own cousin, who is in love with her, is a fugitive accused of shooting Berkleigh, Jack's chum and partner. June hides him in her bedroom. Her father carries in her lover's wounded comrade, while Jack, who follows him, demands from June the surrender of the fugitive. June refuses, and Mr. Walter has devised a heart gripping scene between the primitive mountain girl and the educated man wherein love and duty battle. It is the story of the law of the family and the law of the land.In the production special attention is paid to costume, properties, and scenic environment and each act is a gem of stage portraiture.The play is meeting the same grand success that greeted the charming book by John Fox Jr., who is also the author of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."With Jane Ware in the role of June and a New York company the drama comes to the Dixon opera house on Thursday night, December 11.Children Should be Taught the

North Sea is Full of Drifting Mines

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Stockholm, Nov. 24.—Drifting mines in the North Sea are increasing according to the chief inspector of the Swedish mercantile marine for that district of navigation, who predicts that this winter the mines will constitute a greater menace than at any period since the mine fields were laid. During the week ended today, Dec. 6, the sinking of one American steamer and the damaging of another from striking mines in the North Sea have been reported.

So extensive were the mine fields and so numerous the mines, says the inspector that large numbers of them escaped destruction by the English and American mine sweepers, notwithstanding the energy and diligence with which they worked.

More mines than ever before now are said to be loose and drifting toward the Swedish coast. Efforts are made to sink such mines as are seen by shooting them but it is impossible to cope with them all in this way.

Along the Jutland coast in the course of a single day recently the skipper of one craft reported sighting not less than 72 drifting mines.

Italian Deputy Has Hopes of Revolution

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rome, Friday, Dec. 5.—The Socialist Deputy Misiano, who before his election and while he was absent from the country was condemned by an Italian military court to be shot for desertion and who for a time had been imprisoned in Germany on a charge of participating in revolutionary movements, made his first appearance in the chamber today.

When asked to take the oath he said: "I swear, wishing for a social revolutionary soon." Some socialist deputies applauded this utterance but the remainder of the chamber hooted.

FIRST WEEK, 5 EGGS; SECOND, 7; THIRD, 104

Hens Showed Steady Egg Gain for Mrs. Pierce in Winter Weather.

"The week before we tried Don Sung, we got 5 eggs, from 50 hens. The next week, from a 50-cent package of Don Sung, we got 72 eggs, and the next week 104. Some of our hens are mere bullets and Don Sung has started them laying." Mrs. E. F. Pierce, R. F. D. 1, Butler, Tenn.

Mrs. Pierce selected a severe time for her test—the middle of January. Yet she started getting the eggs promptly. Your hens can lay well in cold weather, and we'll prove it. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it does not get your eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Russell Dugger Co., 281 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

The victory button, it was explained, is awarded in addition to the victory medal, distribution of which is expected to begin shortly.

Anarchists Fight U. S. Order of Deportation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Dec. 6.—Efforts to deport Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman from Ellis Island on bail will be made Monday if their writs of habeas corpus are dismissed by Federal Judge Mayer, their counsel Harry Weinberger announced today.

While both his clients are ready to go to Soviet Russia if permitted to pay their own expenses and select their own method of going, Weinberger said they have authorized him to carry to the United States supreme court, if necessary, his efforts to prove that their deportation would be illegal.

"They do not want to be kicked out of the country in a steamer," he said. "Should Judge Mayer uphold the deportation proceedings, Weinberger said he would move for a stay of deportation and for release of his clients on bail pending appeal. He was hopeful that Federal Judge Hand's release in $1000 bail of Hyman Lachowsky, who had been ordered deported would be a precedent in the Berkman-Goldman cases.

Corn High But Was Weak on the Finish

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Moderately higher prices for corn resulted today from prospective settlement of the coal strike. Industries which owing to the strike have been out of the market were expected to enter soon again as purchasers. A forecast of snow tended also to strengthen values. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1/4¢ to 3/4¢ higher, with January 1.36 1/4 and May 1.34 to 1.34 1/4, were followed by a slight reaction and then by upturns higher than before.

Oats rose with corn. After opening 1/4¢ to 3/4¢ up, including May at 79 1/2¢ to 80¢, the market continued to ascend.

Big receipts of hogs had a depressing effect on the provisions. Besides, estimates were current that arrivals tomorrow would also be liberal.

In the later dealings, unusual weakness of the hog market pulled down the price of corn. The close was heavy, 1 1/4¢ net lower to 1/4¢ advance with January 1.35 to 1.35 1/4 and May 1.32 1/4 to 1.33.

Have You Secured Your Pathé For Christmas?

There isn't such a lot of time as you may imagine. Conditions are such that the Pathé Phonograph cannot at this time be produced in sufficient numbers to meet the demand. So please make an early selection—you can secure a Pathé by means of a moderate initial payment. But act before it is too late. There will not be enough Pathé machines to go around for Christmas.

The Pathé Costs No More Than the Ordinary Phonograph.
